

GEB 3017 Leading Organizations (Spring 2018)

Course Overview

In a world in which most organizations, communities, and societies face enormous adaptive pressures, the practice of leadership is critical. In this course theory is applied to practice, clarifying the relationship among key concepts (e.g., leadership, management, authority, power, influence, followership, citizenship) to provide a practical and coherent theoretical framework. Students will develop both diagnostic tools for analyzing the complexity of change in social systems and strategies of action. These action strategies include using authority and power, mobilizing responsibility across boundaries, generating innovation, building trust, orchestrating multi-party conflict, regulating disequilibrium, and building a culture of adaptability for the long-term. In addition, students will explore the challenge of managing the inevitable personal stresses and potential pitfalls of leading change.

Course Design

The course uses a variety of means to learn theory and the art of leadership practice. In addition to the traditional methods of lectures, readings, and films, the course includes peer-to-peer discussion boards, personal reflection papers, and student engagements/interviews with current leaders in a variety of fields (e.g., business, government, nonprofit, educational, etc.).

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will explore a range of classic and contemporary approaches to leadership, and their application to understanding leaders, followers, and the situations they encounter. The student learning outcomes for the course were crafted with utilizing Yukl's leadership taxonomy and Bloom's taxonomy of learning domains.

Student Learning Outcomes Area 1 (Laws of Leadership)

1. Identify the skills, attributes, and behaviors that are needed to be an effective leader.
2. Demonstrate an ability to distinguish between various leadership theories to better understand how these theories are applied in practice.
3. Develop an enhanced understanding of leader-follower interactions including the exchange and transforming elements of leadership.
4. Analyze how effective leadership impacts organizations and shapes the development of its vision, values, mission, goals and culture.
5. Describe the power and influence processes by which individuals persuade others to adopt new values, attitudes, and goals.

Student Learning Outcomes Area 2 (Leadership Traits and Skills)

1. Compare and contrast different areas of emphasis for leaders in various professional roles (e.g., private sector, academic, public/governmental organizations, non-profits).
2. Analyze the linkages between leadership and vision, high ethical standards, and the ethical dimensions of leadership, and the relationship between leaders and followers.
3. Identify how personal strengths, skills, attributes, and behaviors shape leadership style and the capacity to lead others.
4. Understand current strengths and weaknesses as a leader and as a follower, and develop a personal approach to the practice of leadership.

Student Learning Outcomes Area 3 (Leading Teams and Team Dynamics)

1. Demonstrate an understanding of how leadership impacts organizations.
2. Evaluate collaborative team dynamics and manage conflict and crises.
3. Understand the leader-follower relationship in organizations.

Student Assessment: Students are assessed through a combination of exams, written work, field interviews, and discussion board posts.

Each additional interview is eligible for 15 points of extra credit for a total of 30 points total. Any additional leadership interviews are due the same day as the required five interviews.*

Academic Honor Code

By virtue of enrolling in this course, students commit themselves to uphold the Honor Code, which includes the following pledge: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity." Students are expected to exhibit behavior consistent with this commitment to the UF academic community, and on all work submitted for credit at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." It is assumed that students will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission to collaborate on course tasks (e.g. assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of a student's obligation to uphold the Honor Code, s/he should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is each student's individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. More information regarding the Student Honor Code can be found at the following URL: www.dso.ufl.edu/SCCR/honorcodes/honorcode.php.

Assignment Grading

Assignments are graded and returned to students within two weeks of the assignment due date. There is normally a 5% penalty for each "unprofessional" error (e.g., typos, grammar, and misspelled words) found in any assignment. Review your assignments carefully.

Late Assignments

Students may always submit late assignments after the published due date for partial credit up until the day before "reading days" at the end of the semester. Late submissions will result in the following deductions:

- One day late (30% off); two days late (40% off); three or more two days late (50% off)

Absences and Make-up Work

Requirements for keeping up with lectures, make-up exams, assignments, and other work are consistent with university policies (catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx).

Key Assignments

Lesson from Leaders

Identify five leaders whom you would like to interview. It is advantageous to interview individuals in your field of interest/future profession (please no relatives). Every attempt should be made to conduct face-to-face interviews. "E-mail" interviews are not acceptable. Telephone interviews are strongly discouraged. Face-to-face is the way to go! Build that network! Find a potential mentor!

Each interview usually takes 30 to 40 minutes. The goal is to "bring to life" some of the concepts and theories presented in the course. The written summary of each interview should be approximately two pages with two-thirds of the content describing the responses to your questions and one third dedicated to your personal insights/best takeaways. I am very interested in big takeaways. You should define at least three.

Example Questions

1. Name a person who has had a tremendous impact on you as a leader? Maybe someone who has been a mentor to you? Why and how did this person impact your life?
2. What are the most important decisions you make as a leader in your organization?
3. As an organization gets larger there can be a tendency for the "institution" to dampen the "inspiration." How do you keep this from happening?
4. How do you encourage creative thinking within your organization? Where do the great ideas come from in your organization?
5. Which of the following is most important in your organization—mission, core values, or vision?
6. How do you or others in your organization communicate the "core values"? How do you encourage others in your organization to communicate the "core values"? How do you ensure your organization and its activities are aligned with your "core values"?
7. How do you help a new employee understand the culture of your organization?

8. When faced with two equally-qualified candidates, how do you determine whom to hire?
9. What is one characteristic that you believe every leader should possess?
10. What is the biggest challenge facing leaders today?
11. What is one mistake you witness young leaders frequently making? What are a few behaviors or traits that you have seen that derailed a leader's career?
12. What advice would you give someone going into his/her first leadership position?
13. What do you do to ensure you continue to grow and develop as a leader?

Discussion Board Posts

There are three (3) graded discussion boards. The discussion boards are designed to help students meet classmates, facilitate self-reflection, and provide peer-to-peer learning. The topics for this semester's discussion boards are:

1. 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership (examples of current leaders who display or violate specific laws)
2. Lincoln on Leadership (examples of current leaders who display...or significantly lack...Lincoln's traits)
3. Self-Reflection (reflect on key takeaways from the course and their future implications on your career/life choices)

Minimum Participation: One Post (400 words +/- 10%). For 1-2 only, respond to two posts by peers (150 words +/- 10%).

Personal Leadership Reflection

Students are required to submit a personal leadership reflection paper. Reflection involves thinking about our experiences. Day-to-day experiences in leadership roles, as well as our personal and professional lives, offer opportunities for reflection and learning. Development of leadership capabilities and capacity require the ability to explore, question, and evaluate one's own performance and development.

The following are questions that should be addressed in the personal leadership reflection paper.

1. Which four to six laws from the 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership book are strengths for you (personally and professionally) and provide examples of how you came to this conclusion? Which three or four laws are weaknesses, explain why, and describe your strategy for improvement.
2. Describe three to four ways that you plan on incorporating lessons from Lincoln on Leadership into your personal and professional goals? How do you plan on measuring your progress to ensure that your plan "comes alive" vis-à-vis "collects dust."
3. As an organization gets larger there can be a tendency for the "institution" to dampen the "inspiration" of leaders. How do you plan to keep this from happening in your future leadership roles? Cite a few examples from The 17 Indisputable Laws of Teamwork.
4. In addition to the previous three questions, students should also include a reflection on the values-sort activity located at the following website: www.thegoodproject.org/toolkits-curricula/the-goodwork-toolkit/value-sort-activity. Knowing what we value most in our work, relationships, and other commitments makes it easier to respond to opportunities and conflicts with integrity. This values sort is an excellent way to reflect upon what is most important to you personally and it is also a great way to stimulate conversations with peers, colleagues, and family members.
