Leslie Reagin (BSBA ’95) and Chris Breakiron (BSAC ’91; MACC ’92) each named as Vice President with Tech Data Corporation

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb 23, 2006 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Tech Data Corporation, a leading distributor of IT products, today announced it promoted Leslie Reagin to vice president, compensation, benefits and human resource services, and appointed Chris Breakiron vice president, corporate accounting.

Leslie Reagin, Vice President, Compensation, Benefits and Human Resource Services

In her new role, Reagin will primarily be responsible for developing and executing Tech Data's worldwide employee compensation and benefits strategies. She has been with Tech Data since 1998 and most recently was director, compensation, benefits and human resource operations. Prior to her position in the company's Human Resources Division, Reagin was director of tax for Tech Data's U.S. operations. Before joining Tech Data, Reagin held various tax and accounting positions with Price Waterhouse Coopers. She is a certified public accountant and earned bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration and a second master's degree in taxation from the University of Florida.

Chris Breakiron, Vice President, Corporate Accounting

Breakiron is responsible for Tech Data's worldwide financial reporting, technical accounting research and SEC reporting. Prior to Tech Data, he was senior vice president and controller, International Card Services for St. Petersburg, Fla.-based Certegy Inc., a financial processing and services company that recently merged with Fidelity National Information Services, Inc. During his tenure with Certegy, Breakiron managed finance, pricing, accounting and Sarbanes-Oxley compliance for four international markets including Asia-Pacific, Europe, South America and Latin America/Caribbean. He also was chief financial officer for St. Petersburg-based Insurance Management Solutions Group. Breakiron is a certified public accountant and earned bachelor's and master's degrees in accounting from the University of Florida.
