Greenberg Traurig Attorney Lori A. Sochin (BSBA ’84; JD ’94) Selected Co-Chair of the American Bar Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee

MIAMI, Aug 06, 2008 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Greenberg Traurig attorney Lori A. Sochin has been selected as co-chair of the American Bar Association Section of Litigation Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee. Sochin is a shareholder in the litigation practice group of the firm’s Miami office.

The Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee develops and sponsors programs to enhance attorney skills in all forms of alternative dispute resolution, including arbitration, mediation, summary jury trials, mini-trials, early neutral evaluation, as well as effective settlement and negotiation techniques. Sochin is responsible for helping the Section of Litigation better serve all of its members through her active engagement with subcommittee chairs and the creation of an annual plan to meet the goals of the Section’s five-year and diversity plans. The appointment is for one year.

Sochin focuses her practice on business litigation disputes involving breach of contract, business torts, and probate, estate and trust matters. She received her J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law and earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration from the University of Florida.
