WHAT’S IT WORTH?

Advising on the investment value of global real estate assets

Steve Williams, Global Advisor to Real Capital Analytics, will talk about his cross-border work in the world’s changing real estate investment markets. First and foremost an appraiser applying his interpretive skills in response to the market’s need for sound advice, Steve’s topics will include:

1. Traditional valuation methodologies in the volatile and ever-changing world of property and finance.

2. Interpreting and applying research and data: how we do it……how we should do it.

3. Evaluating appraisal accuracy: how has the appraisal profession fared as a value-navigator through the stormy first decade of the 21st century?

5. The veracity and application of indexing.
