

Saul D. Goodman
Evercore Partners
Senior Managing Director

Saul Goodman is a Senior Managing Director of the firm's corporate advisory business. He joined in 1998 and became a Partner in 2001.

Prior to joining Evercore, Mr. Goodman was a Vice President in the Investment Banking Division of Lehman Brothers, where he focused on media and telecommunications clients. Mr. Goodman started his career at Ark Asset Management, where he worked as an Assistant Portfolio Manager.

Mr. Goodman was involved in advising CBS Corporation on its merger with Viacom Inc., SpectraSite on its merger with American Tower Corporation, ACNielsen Corporation on its sale to VNU N.V. and the sale of VNU N.V. to KKR, Blackstone, Carlyle, Hellman and Friedman, THLee and others.

Other notable transactions include advising SBC Communications on its purchase of AT&T Wireless, the sale of J.D. Power and Associates to The McGraw-Hill Companies, Dow Jones purchase of MarketWatch, the dual-class restructuring of Robert Mondavi and merger with Constellation Brands, the minority investment by CalPERS in SilverLake Partners, Hearst investment in Fitch Ratings and the spinoff of Time Warner Cable from Time Warner Inc. Mr. Goodman was also involved with Evercore Capital Partners' investments in American Media, Inc., and Telenet Holding N.V.

Mr. Goodman currently serves on the Board of Directors of American Media, Inc. and previously served on the Board of Directors of Telenet Holding N.V. He is also a board member of The Synagogue for the Arts and is on The Strategic Vision Committee for The Downtown Jewish Community Project.

He graduated summa cum laude from the University of Florida with a B.S. in finance (1989) and received his M.B.A., with honors, from the Columbia University Graduate School of Business (1994).

He lives with his wife and four children in New York City.