ECTS CREDITS

ECTS Credits describe the student workload required to complete course units. They reflect the quantity of work each course unit requires in relation to the total quantity of work necessary to complete a full academic year, and therefore they are a relative rather than an absolute measure. Please refer to the module outlines for details of the ECTS credit values allocated for each module and the dissertation for a specific Masters course.

Please note that although partners should use the ECTS credit rating to work out the workload of their students at Aston, they should NOT use ECTS grades. The Aston local results are far more representative of students’ performance at Aston.

MODULARISATION OF ASTON CURRICULUM

The year is divided into three terms, each of ten weeks.

All postgraduate taught study programmes are organised in ten-week blocks over the first two terms with an examination period at the end of each term. Term three is dedicated to the Masters dissertation and soft skills.

Each student will study 7 to 8 modules a year (depending on the Masters programme they have registered for) if they are registered on a double-degree. Generally, each module runs for one 10 week term, studied in three hour sessions, with one session per module per week together with private study, group work and assessment) and is worth 15 or 30 Aston credits – equivalent to 7.5 or 15 ECTS credits. On some courses modules may be taught over 2 terms. Students attending Aston for one or two academic terms will be able to study up to 5 modules per term although we normally recommend a maximum workload of 4 modules.

Assessment, either by examination and/or submission of coursework takes place in the last week of each academic term. Re-sits take place in September (to be confirmed) and only at Aston University as we cannot arrange overseas exams.

The Masters dissertation is submitted in the middle of September.
STUDY METHODS

Contact hours and assessment
The majority of modules consist of ten weekly three-hour sessions – nine weeks of taught material, one week of revision, and then the eleventh week for sitting examinations or submitting coursework. All modules are assessed either by a 2-hour or 3-hour examination and/or by the submission of coursework, the results of which are available at the beginning of the following term.

The three-hour sessions, with one session per module per week, give students a minimum weekly time-tabling commitment of 12-15 hours which take place between 9.00am and 9.00pm. Including further reading, preparation of coursework, group work and development of presentations each module is likely to require another 30 or more hours a week.

When making your module selections please be aware that some may contain written assessments (coursework) which are due to be submitted after the official end of term. You can view the submission deadlines on each module outline.

If you select a module with coursework due after the end of the term, you are permitted to submit the coursework by post if you did not wish to remain in the UK until the submission date.

Please be aware that you may experience a delay in the date that you receive your mark for these modules and that you should therefore ensure that this does not delay your progression with your Home Institution (e.g. your graduation date). If you are interested in one of these modules but have any questions please do not hesitate in emailing the IE Office.

Dissertation (Double degree students only)
All MSc programmes include a dissertation which forms a substantial element of the course both in terms of workload and assessment weighting. The dissertation (guideline 15-20,000 words) is undertaken from the end of the second term and is submitted in mid-September. However, work will begin during the first and second terms, when a topic for the dissertation is identified, an academic supervisor is allocated, a work plan and dissertation summary/proposal are produced and an ethical approval for the proposed research is obtained in conjunction with the dissertation’s supervisor.

Course Selection: Term 1 / Term 2 Students

COURSE SELECTION FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS ATTENDING ONE OR TWO ACADEMIC TERMS (non double-degree students)

Aston Business School Postgraduate Programme currently offers in excess of 20 specialised Master degrees.

Exchange students joining Aston for one or two terms, either in Term 1 (September to December) or Term 2 (January to April) will be enrolled on the ABS Master Exchange Programme. This will give them the possibility to select from a list of more than 40 modules from the MSc Degree Programmes listed in the double-degree options.

The number of modules that can be selected must be agreed in advance with the home institution but students must register for at least two modules. The number of ECTS credit load for each module can vary but students will be able to study up to four modules which will represent a MAXIMUM of 60 Aston credits (30 ECTS credits) per academic term. This will determine the total number of courses that can be selected. In some circumstances we may exceptionally allow students to study up to five modules if required by the home institution.

When making their module selections, students should note that some electives will assume knowledge of topics covered in other modules. If these pre-requisites have not already been studied, students will not be able to register for that module. The responsibility for ensuring that any stated pre-requisite modules have been completed lies with the student. Information on pre-requisites can be found in the Module Outlines. If any of the modules selected have pre-requisites, students will need to note this on the “Module Choice / Evidence of Prior Learning” form and attach evidence of prior learning. This form must be signed and stamped by the home institution.

REGISTERING FOR MODULES

A Module Choice Form listing available modules and their scheduled running will be made available before the start of each academic year. The provisional teaching schedule will be made available in Autumn and the definitive teaching schedule as soon as possible. We will endeavour to publish provisional module choices for Term 1 (September to December) as soon as they become available.

Students will need to complete the form indicating their selection, and if appropriate providing evidence of prior learning. The form will need to be signed and stamped by the home institution and returned before the start of term.

Information can be found on the following page: http://www.aston.ac.uk/aston-business-school/international/incoming/postgraduate/msc/exchange-one-or-two-academic-terms/course-selection/

Please note: Since September 2013 we no longer offer credit-bearing courses in Term 3 (April to June) on the MSc programme (although the option will remain available on the MBA programme). All academic modules will be scheduled over either the first or the second of our academic teaching periods: Term 1 (September to December) and Term 2 (January to March). Term 3 will be dedicated to professional development and soft skills.

General Advice

Birmingham is fortunate in that it boasts a wide variety of alternative accommodation for students that are well connected by bus and rail links. However, there are still a number of things to take into consideration when seeking off-campus accommodation.

Alternative off-campus accommodation types:

- Private student halls – these are similar to University campus accommodation but are run by commercial companies.
- Shared house - sharing a house with other students in Birmingham.
- Private apartment or house - living on your own in Birmingham City Centre or surrounding areas.

We recommend that you search for your accommodation in advance, in particular if you are looking for shared/private housing. We recommend that you arrive in the UK early so that you can view properties and make arrangements in person.

If you look outside AstonStudentHomes for accommodation, please be careful which accommodation agencies you use in your search. It is against the Law in the UK for an accommodation agency to take fees in advance from prospective tenants in return for details of properties. For tips on how to avoid rental scams please check out Action Fraud: Rental Scams.

Please remember that the University cannot recommend off-campus accommodation properties, but provides a list to help guide your search with the information available from staff at ARC. It is your responsibility to secure accommodation and find out what options may be available to you.

Please read the following information regarding rental fraud:

From December 2014, landlords in Birmingham will need to check that someone has the right to live in the UK before letting a property to them. This will mean that finding private accommodation will take slightly longer than it has in the past. You can help the process run smoothly and make yourself an appealing tenant by having the required documents ready for inspection. Please refer to the link below to see how the Government have advised landlords and which documents will be required.
