Amy Howell

My name is Amy Howell, and I was born in Winter Haven, Florida. In May of 2008, I graduated from Polk Community College with my Associate of Arts degree in Business Administration. From there I was accepted into the University of Florida (where my dad and older brother also graduated from). I am currently entering my senior year at UF as a marketing major. In the past year that I have been attending UF, I have been active in the American Marketing Association (AMA). I have held the position of Director of Fund Raising and am now serving as the Vice President of Operations for AMA. In addition, this past summer I accepted an internship with Firestone Complete Auto Care. This has been one of the best and most challenging experiences that I have faced in my college career. I'm so glad that I have had this opportunity. It gave me a chance to work in an industry that I would not have considered before, and I have realized how much I enjoy this area of retail. My favorite aspects of working in retail are that no day is ever exactly the same as the one before, and I have the opportunity to work with so many different people.
