Gentry Adams

My name is Gentry Adams and I am a senior marketing major here at UF. I am receiving the Walgreens Certificate in Retailing Leadership and have also completed a minor in mass communications. While at UF I participated in the ACRA Charrette competition where my team placed second in designing a new store for Ron Jon's Surf Shop. I have worked at Plato's Closet, a clothing store here in Gainesville, for the past two years and have worked my way up from sales associate to key-holder. I am in charge of all visual displays for the store, as well as sending out promotional e-mails to our listserv. I have also recently created a blog for the store as another promotional source. Upon graduation in May I plan on opening a boutique in Louisville, KY called The Pink Anchor. The store will feature local clothing designers, artists, musicians, and writers. It has always been my dream to open a boutique, and I am ready to see what the future holds for me in Louisville!
