Maritza Torres

Hello! My name is Maritza Torres and I was born and raised in Chicago, IL. I'm the Tower Hill Graduate Assistant for the WCBA Office of Professional Development Programs. I graduated from DePaul University in 2008 with a Bachelors of Arts degree in Communication as well as a minor in Spanish and Latin American and Latino Studies. In college I was actively involved in the Fraternity and Sorority Community. I'm a member of Alpha Psi Lambda, Inc, a co-ed Latino Fraternity, and I served for two years on the executive board for the Multicultural Greek Council as Internal Vice President, and President. I also had the opportunity to attend Fraternity and Sorority Leadership conferences in which I presented programs, and networked with a number of different Fraternity and Sorority organizations across the country.

Due to my involvement I was inspired to go into the field of student affairs. I'm currently in the process of getting my Masters Degree within the Student Personnel and Higher Education Program at the University of Florida.

Within the WCBA I help advise the Warrington Student Integrity Team, as well as assist in the planning of various programs created by the Office of Professional Development Programs. I love working with students, and helping them develop their leadership skills. I aspire to mentor and motivate future student leaders and teach them the benefits of being involved, and achieving academic success!
