Temmy Lizarzabal

Barclays Capital, Debt Capital Markets

My SEO internship enhanced my skill sets, both technically and personally. Last summer, I worked in Debt Capital Markets (DCM) for Barclays Capital which helps large corporate clients raise capital through fixed-income securities. Specifically, I helped energy and utilities companies issue investment-grade debt. This work not only increased my knowledge of the financial markets, but also my belief in what I am capable of achieving.

Daniel Torres

IBM Software Group, Global Corporate Financial Leadership

By participating in SEO's Career Program, I gained valuable training before I even stepped foot in the work place. SEO prepared me by offering technical training in programs like Excel and PowerPoint and complemented that training with soft skills like effective communication and networking. While at IBM, I was able to put my training to use in a variety of financial analysis projects and I also got the opportunity to network with other executives at the company. I would recommend SEO's internship program because it gives students the chance to obtain top internships with global corporations and investment banks.

Kyle Morabito

Merrill Lynch, Cash Equity Trading

SEO provided me with more than a prestigious internship in the financial industry. In my internship with Merrill Lynch, I had access to networking events that were attended by representatives from ten different Wall Street investment banks. SEO also assigned me to various mentors within the financial industry and trained me on how to handle multiple interviews and job offers. I can not imagine learning more about the financial industry than I did last summer, nor can I ever imagine feeling more satisfied than when Merrill Lynch offered me a full-time job.
