4. Dean’s Report –

  -Dean Kraft announced the appointment of the following individuals to serve on the WCBA Strategic Planning Committee:

    Marketing: Rich Lutz (Chair) and Robyn LeBoeuf
    Management: Joyce Bono and Larry DiMatteo
    Finance: Jay Ritter and Andy Naranjo
    ISOM: Praveen Pathak and Haldun Aytug
    FSOA: Stephen Asare and Jenny Tucker
    Economics: David Sappington and Chunrong Ai
    Ex-officio: Selcuk Erenuguc, Gary McGill, Brian Ray, Jon Cannon and Sherry Deist
Dean Kraft reported the following:

-The WCBA Strategy background document (attached to the agenda) is a resource document to help the Strategic Planning Committee focus direction for our next accreditation. Their planning horizon is 2013 to 2018.
-The strategic planning document has been discussed with the Unit Heads and also the Provost.
-In order to move forward the college will need $5 million. If the college doesn’t get the funding we will have to find a way to cut our budget. Some thought on this would be:

- The college will not be able to get the $5 million through endowments (requires about $120 million).
- Enrollments at the graduate level are holding up.
- Shrink sections and eliminate seats; non-business particularly at the UG level.
- The jumpstart one $ - added into our budget.
- The jumpstart two $ - after two years we have to pick up funding the last year and this is something we don’t want (so returned two jump start positions in entrepreneurship).
- The college will have a 3 year commitment to BEBR and then any funding ends after that.
- BEBR officially moved to CLAS in July 2011.
- UF is committed to improving quality of doctoral education and the college will be participating in this effort.
- Long term an adjustment to tenure track faculty from 76 to 66 is a possibility.
- The college will not replace faculty or staff that retire.

A motion was made to adjourn the graduate faculty meeting. The motion was seconded and the meeting adjourned.

Course Description / Objectives:

A firm’s effort to create value for its customers can be harvested through a means of profitable pricing. The objective of this course is to provide students with a good understanding of the strategy and tactics for an effective pricing decision. By the end of the course, students will be able to explain the underlying mechanism for the current pricing practices and apply their knowledge in improving pricing decisions.

The course starts with a discussion of the pricing strategy. Here we focus on the role of price in defining a firm’s value proposition to its customers, on the ways in which customers respond to price, and on the role of competition in formulating pricing strategy. Then we move on to discuss pricing tactics. This portion centers on the current pricing practices such as pay-as-you-wish pricing, name-you-own-price, nonlinear pricing, and pricing of conspicuous goods. Here we theoretically examine the underlying mechanisms for these practices, both from economics and behavioral science perspectives, and apply this knowledge to other settings.

Course Materials:

- Course Packet

Both books are required. The course packet is also required. It contains business cases that we will discuss in class. It is highly recommended for students to do the assigned reading before coming to each class. Additional materials (such as course slides) will be either posted in Sakai or distributed in class.

In addition, the following books are suggested for background readings.

Classes

You will experience several different pedagogical tools that help you understand the strategy and tactics of pricing and apply them to real pricing problems: lectures, case discussions, short quiz, written case analysis, exercise, and group project.

Lectures. Topics for each week of the course are identified in this syllabus. It is important that you do the assigned readings for the week in advance of the lecture, since activity during the session will build on the text and other reading materials.

Case Discussions. On average we will discuss a case per day (i.e., two sessions) in class. The quantity and quality of your participation in case study discussions is an important part of the learning process in this course (and an important element of your final grade). In preparation for case studies, you should read the materials assigned in the syllabus. At the beginning of each case discussion, a few students may be cold-called to help begin our analysis and discussion of the case. Every student is responsible for preparing a complete analysis of each case. This analysis should include identification of the problem, examination of that problem, generation of alternative solutions, and the selection of a particular action. You are requested to form groups comprised of 5 students, and these groups should discuss the case before coming to class.

Short Quiz. This is an individual assignment that needs to be completed before the commencement of the class. The questions are intended to assess your comprehension of the assigned readings and clarify some basic issues in pricing. Your performance in the quiz will be counted toward your class participation score.

Written Case Analysis. This is a group assignment. The written analysis will provide an opportunity to apply your understanding of the pricing principles covered in the course to solve business problems. The format for the written analysis, along with a sample, will be provided on the first day of class. These assignments should be turned in at the commencement of class on the day when they are due.

Exercise. These exercises will help to develop your conceptual clarity and your ability to solve pricing problems. You are encouraged to work in groups.

Project. The purpose of the project is to develop an in-depth understanding of a pricing method or demonstrate the skill to solve business problems using appropriate pricing methods. This is a group assignment, and more details will be provided in class.

Grading:

Your final grade will be determined on the following basis:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grading Element</th>
<th>Weight</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Participation (Individual)</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exercises (Group)</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Written Case Analysis (Group)</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Project (Group)</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The point grade will be converted into the letter grade based on the following table:
Important Course Policies:

Attendance and Participation: You will be expected to come to class prepared to participate in class discussion. Because participation will be an important part of the learning process, regular attendance is a course requirement. Students who miss a class will be given a zero for that day’s class participation. Students absent for more than 2 case discussions without the approval of the instructor are likely to be awarded a FAIL grade for the course. It is important to understand that frequent participation in class is not as important as the quality of participation. That is, you should strive to make effective use of discussion time in class, through thoughtful, timely, and constructive participation.

Submission of Assignment: All assignments should be submitted via email. Any submission past due without prior notice will NEVER be graded.

Group Assignment Evaluation: In determining the grades for group assignment, your input will be used. First, at the final presentation, you will be asked to evaluate other team’s performance. If two-thirds of the class agrees on either good or bad, the team will get an additional positive or negative point. Also, to promote active participation in the group assignments, you will be asked to name up to N-2 members of your team who contributed most. This information will be used to determine personal variations in team grades.

Students with Disabilities: Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Student Office. The Dean of Student Office will provide accommodation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. For further information, visit http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/.

Academic Integrity: You are expected to adhere to the University of Florida Honor Code. Plagiarism, cheating, prohibited collaboration or consultation, as well as other violation of the university Honor Code will NOT be tolerated. Any violation will be handled according to the UF Honor Code Procedures. For further information, visit http://www.dso.ufl.edu/scct/honorcode.php.

Course Conduct: Late arrivals are disruptive to the class. You are expected to come to class on time. If you are late by more than 10 minutes, you will be marked absent. When getting to class, you are also required to turn off all electronic devices, including your laptop, smartphone, and ipad.
