

Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration Area of Specialization: *Pre-Law (law)

Description

Students intending to go to law school may choose almost any major. There are no specific prerequisites or majors required when applying to law school. However, there are a number of skills that can help prepare a student for success in law. The BABA with a Pre-Law area of specialization allows students interested in the study of law to get a strong foundation in business while strengthening their critical thinking, analytical, writing, and communication skills.

All students considering a pre-law track should review the pre-law advising website for additional information on admission requirements specific to each program and school at <http://www.advising.ufl.edu/prelaw/>.
